

INDIANA OFFICE-SEEKERS.

NOT ENOUGH PLACES TO MEET ALL THEIR DEMANDS.

Some of the Leading Aspirants—Dan Macaulay's Good Luck—The New York Appointments—News of Interest From Washington.

[Special to The Indianapolis News.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—Indiana has been one of the States in which the number of office-seekers has been augmented by the new appointments made at the State Department. The number is between sixty and seventy, and is being augmented daily by new appointments.

Dan Macaulay's Good Luck.

The Post prints the following: Gen. Dan Macaulay, appointment clerk of the treasury, has yielded to a tax with great grace and enjoyment, and now it will fall at his own official neck, but it makes no difference. He is fixed. Some eighteen months ago he became acquainted with a Brazilian, who mentioned that there was land upon his father's estate which he knew to be productive of diamonds in some degree, but capital was not much money, but a large amount of confidence in his friend. Labor is cheap in Brazil, and the few hundred he put up for a one-third interest, went a long way. Yesterday he exhibited a small box which contained not less than fifteen thousand dollars' worth of gems. He displayed other brilliant of rare value which he had sent to him by his partners to be estimated and sold to jewelry in this country. One-third of the proceeds, of course, belong to him. General Macaulay says that in the letter which accompanied the diamonds, the associates express the utmost confidence in the future of the mine, saying that the output becomes richer, and the finds much more frequent as the mine is worked. He has visions that a bangle will be produced that will eclipse the Kohinoor.

Candidates For Various Places.

George E. Trow, of Madison, who has been several days, is an applicant for a consular position. Will H. O'Brien, editor of the Lawrenceburg Register, and one of the active politicians of the State, is also an applicant for a consular position. He is quietly looking over the field. He is suspected of having designs on a consular position. He returned yesterday to Lawrenceburg. Jerome H. Smith, of Madison, is a member of the committee from Peru, left yesterday for his home, after having filed a strong petition for appointment as consul to Havana. There is a sharp rivalry for this place, but it will be won by the Indiana friend who is best qualified for the position.

The Indiana Chairmanship.

Various names have been suggested here for the chairmanship of the Indiana State fair, which will soon be made vacant by the resignation of Chairman Gowdy. The two names that have been mentioned are those of E. H. Nebecker and George W. Steele. When Mr. Nebecker was approached by some of the friends of the fair, he said that he could not accept the place. It is believed, however, that if ex-President Harrison should ask Mr. Nebecker to become chairman, the latter would be inclined to accept. Mr. Nebecker is a member of the fair committee, and the suggestion of Mr. Steele's name has not yet been made.

Young Voorhees's Appointment.

The appointment by Senator Voorhees of a division "Jim" as clerk to the committee on finance, was something of a surprise. It was said, a few days ago, that Chester Faulkner, a postmaster of the State, was the man who would be named for the place. It is said that "Judge" Faulkner will have a position with the committee, and that he will be an assistant clerk and a messenger to be appointed. The salary of young Voorhees's position is $2,500 a year. It has been held under the Republican party, and is now held by Benjamin Durfee, an authority on the tariff schedule.

Congressman Conn's Plans.

Congressman Conn, who left the city, accompanied by his wife, yesterday, goes home for the purpose of settling a number of post-office disputes in his district. He expects to settle up most of the disputes in about two weeks, when he will return to Washington. He will not be accompanied by Mrs. Conn on his return. Her stay in Illinois, and she will remain at home to recuperate before coming on for the fall session of Congress.

Other Householders at the Capital.

John S. and W. March 16.—An order was issued at the Navy Department to-day detaching Rear Admiral Irvy from command of the Mare Island yard and ordering him to command the battleship Oregon, at the Mare Island yard, and ordering him to command the battleship Oregon, at the Mare Island yard, and ordering him to command the battleship Oregon, at the Mare Island yard.

Capital Notes.

The Senate, after a ten-minute session to-day, adjourned. The bill for the relief of Jerome H. Smith, of Peru, has secured the State delegation for endorsement for consular position to Havana; salary $5,000 and fees. Representative Hord, of Chicago, who is not in Washington to apply for the position of assistant district attorney, but to see the attorney of his case, Perry Hord, to a consular position.

HE DIED A MISER.

Supposed To Be Penniless, He Left A Fortune Of $300,000.
New York, March 16.—When William Gillies, seventy years old, dropped dead on the East river bank, on March 4, he was generally supposed to be a friendless old man without means. It now appears that he was worth nearly $300,000. William Gillies was for forty years a friend of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, and he left him a will in 1865, which provided that he would look to him to see that his provisions were carried out. When the first safety deposit vault was built Gillies took back the will and looked it up. Afterward, he made Edward King, president of the Union Trust Company, executor. Gillies managed to save much money by his astute management, and he left a large fortune.

THE NEW YORK APPOINTMENTS.

Cleveland Evidently Not Disposed To Favor The Hill-Tammany Element.
[Special to The Indianapolis News.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—President Cleveland has not yet taken the first step in the way of offering the olive branch to the Hill and Tammany Democracy of New York. Some time ago it was stated while the President would probably recognize his own friends in the appointments here the Harlan river, that in Brooklyn and New York City he would concede all the principal offices to Richard Croker and the other Tammany leaders. Every New York appointment made to date, however, shows a studied effort to ignore the State and city Democratic machines. The two cabinet appointments from New York were in nowise a recognition of the political machine. Colonel LaMont's was a purely personal appointment, and Postmaster General Russell's was the first recognition of the anti-Tammany movement.

THE RATE OF THE PIRATES.

SURPRISED BY THE VILLAGERS AND HACKED TO PIECES.

Two of Them Have Even a More Horrible Death—A Story of Bloodshed and Savagery In a Chinese Village.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The steamer ship of Rio de Janeiro arrived yesterday from Yokohama and brought a paper print of the following account of the extermination of a band of pirates in a Chinese village last January:
On the 15th January last two piratical craft having run into one of the numerous inlets in the vicinity of the city of Sheppu, called Pan-Tu, for shelter, some of the pirates landed on the shore and made a few purchases, but most likely to see whether any "business" could be done in their present position. Probably the natives thought that the pirates were peacefully disguised, and so thought that by merely informing the shops at which they called that they were traders who had come in for temporary shelter, they could avoid suspicions concerning their real calling. But as Pan-Tu had suffered repeatedly from depredations of the numerous sea pirates along the coast of Chekiang, and had lost some of their number at the hands of the desperadoes, it so happened that some of the pirates who landed that day were recognized by the inhabitants of the village. The natives, who were their enemies, and the pirates were in a predicament. No sooner had the men returned to their junks than the alarm was given, and the principal men of the village immediately called upon two brothers who were officers, belonging to one of the regiments garrisoning the village. They were asked to lead a body of their fellow-villagers, who had been just recruited by the pirates, to their unenviable and frequent victims.

Two of Them Have Even a More Horrible Death—A Story of Bloodshed and Savagery In a Chinese Village.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The steamer ship of Rio de Janeiro arrived yesterday from Yokohama and brought a paper print of the following account of the extermination of a band of pirates in a Chinese village last January:
On the 15th January last two piratical craft having run into one of the numerous inlets in the vicinity of the city of Sheppu, called Pan-Tu, for shelter, some of the pirates landed on the shore and made a few purchases, but most likely to see whether any "business" could be done in their present position. Probably the natives thought that the pirates were peacefully disguised, and so thought that by merely informing the shops at which they called that they were traders who had come in for temporary shelter, they could avoid suspicions concerning their real calling. But as Pan-Tu had suffered repeatedly from depredations of the numerous sea pirates along the coast of Chekiang, and had lost some of their number at the hands of the desperadoes, it so happened that some of the pirates who landed that day were recognized by the inhabitants of the village. The natives, who were their enemies, and the pirates were in a predicament. No sooner had the men returned to their junks than the alarm was given, and the principal men of the village immediately called upon two brothers who were officers, belonging to one of the regiments garrisoning the village. They were asked to lead a body of their fellow-villagers, who had been just recruited by the pirates, to their unenviable and frequent victims.

Mr. Blount Bound For Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—Representative Blount, of Georgia, has left Washington for San Francisco, accompanied by Mr. Ellis Mills, a confidential stenographer of the State Department. It is confidentially reported, however, that Blount is on a secret mission, an appointment which required no confirmation by the Senate. The selection of Mr. Blount for this mission is a surprise, as he has never before been sent on such a mission. It is said that he is to be sent to Hawaii, and that he is to be accompanied by Mr. Ellis Mills.

The World's Fair Fund.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Secretary Carlisle has not yet decided what security he will exact of the World's Fair Commission before he will release the $2,000,000 which the law has required to be withheld, until security satisfactory to the Secretary of the Treasury is given for the return to the Treasury of the $2,000,000. Under the law there are two appropriations, one of $1,000,000, one of which, separate from and in addition to the $2,000,000, is to be used in the purchase of the fair grounds, and the other, separate from the $2,000,000, is to be used in the purchase of the fair grounds.

DR. CLEVELAND ON LITERATURE.

He says it is the Phonograph of Nations.

The Rev. Dr. H. A. Cleveland lectured before the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Seventh M. E.

church last night on "Some of the Pleasures

of Literature."

He said that literature is the phonograph by which we can hear the voices of all the nations, races and ages that have preceded us. Of all writers, the poet comes the closest to us. In them we have the most of what is human and the most of what is divine. Dante's matches words are still so fresh that you stay in them too long they will give you goosebumps. Shakespeare is as well of English as we are. He is as safe as the Old Testament in the hands of the most sensitive child. He forms a striking contrast with the modern novelist in that he never talks to you at the beginning as if you knew something, and then proceeds to talk as if you did not. It may be that Shelley lived too much like a

Mormon, but he sang like a disembodied angel. We must not be too severe on the moral delinquencies of Burns, but remember the good he did. In our country, reached high-water mark in the writings of James

Russell Lowell, the aristocratic poet, the aristocratically piled snow of the Doctor's hair and whiskers seemed to melt away, and the Hoosier

Riley stood before the audience.

Another G. A. R. Tax Meeting.

In ward eleven Friday evening there will be a meeting to consider the proposed G. A. R. encampment tax. Councilman Ryan, of that ward is opposed to the tax, and says his constituents are opposed to it, but he prefers to have them go on record.

A Soldier's Burial.

the poor farm last Saturday, received a soldier's burial at Crown Hill yesterday afternoon. His name has been variously spelled

HENRY D. BURGHES INTERVIEWED

In Which Two Newspaper Men Got

Wounded, Laconically Saying, "O

Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud?"

Reporter—How come it that you repair watches

at prices that your competitors cannot compete with? They asked of this ever-ready-to-talk business, live jeweler.

Easy enough to answer. I do repair work for jewelers throughout the State and part of Illinois at prices on which they realize just 100 per cent. profit, and so I have calculated to get about 5000 more jobs from individuals who reside in the city and surrounding country at no advantage of what I charge to the wholesale trade.

Understand, it is the quantity that counts.

Reporter—Is it not difficult to please such a large number of people with such artistic work as watch repairing, and then your profit so small?

Burghes—Yes, newspaper men addressing the advertising agent, principally, are funny creatures. When you speak of your circulation

you tell me that you have 50,000 subscribers, and then there are five readers to each paper, and every reader owns so many horses, and cows, and asses, which so swells your circulation that you have 250 and take a warrant and swear by it.

Now, Burghes continued, has not every one of my patrons an uncle and aunt, brother and sister? Haven't they fingers and toes, and don't they want (I mean the cousins, etc.) watches and silverware? They have weddings and divorces, and don't they want rings and chains to tie themselves, and alarm clocks to wake them to their senses? And to the number of my patrons, grows larger and larger, I sell everything in the jewelry line at wholesale prices. The people flock to my store. I treat all mankind just and right. I am at

No. 9 S. Illinois st. My prices are the lowest in the city, and then, leaving the store, he murmured, while the throng was entering his store:

"O why should the spirit of mortal be proud?

Like a swift-footing meteor, a fast-flying cloud."

And he looked at us no more.

"A Fresh (?) Fish Story."

caught; how was this?" For the first correct answer we will give, free of all incumbrance, a be selected by the fortunate sender. For the second a rosewood cabinet, containing one hundred pieces of sterling silver, knives, forks and spoons,

and to the next ten a beautiful gold watch with American movement, lady's or gentleman's size.

This offer appears in ten papers to-day, and in order to test the value of this paper as an advertising medium we will give to the first two answers received from this locality prizes to the value of $20 and $15, in the order as received.
